Who are we?

We are Laibel & Chana Schwartz, a professional husband and wife photography team.

We look at every wedding as an opportunity to tell a unique story that includes everything from the setting of the wedding to the smallest decorative details. We know that you will be shining on your wedding day, and we want to showcase that, giving you a lifetime of memories to hold onto.

Talk to you soon.

Laibel Schwartz Photography is an elegant and classic wedding photography studio. The chosson and kallah are the most important people at their wedding, the source of all the joy. Because of this, we put our focus on them.

We capture the emotions, the moments, and the relationships. We create heirloom albums and images that will be passed down from you to the family that you create together.

Our images are elegant, clean, and sophisticated. We strive to create images that will not fade or go out of style over time, but rather, preserve family memories.

FAQ | ihaveaquestion

We are excited and humbled by your interest in our work. Take a look at what we have to offer, and then consider your time with us a unique investment in capturing one of a kind photographic art. If you have additional questions or would like pricing information, contact us at us@laibelschwartz.com.

What is your business about? We strive to give you the best. That means we're constantly educating ourselves and updating our equipment, looking for ways to improve our business, and learning what we can do to serve you as best as possible.

What makes you stand out? We are a boutique studio, run as a husband and wife. We have a single vision with two unique perspectives, and we bring our individual strengths together to connect to you and to deliver to you from more than one person's abilities.

What happens when we hire you? Once you decide to hire us to capture your wedding, we will give you a few things to help get to know us, and for us to get to know you. We'll discuss your wedding day and the vision that you have, and we'll deliver everything with care and attention to detail to let you know we care.

Where are you located? We are currently located in Monsey, New York. We frequent Monsey Wedding Halls as well as Wedding Halls and other Venues in Brooklyn, Lakewood, and around the Tri-State area.

Do you Travel? Yes. We love to travel and enjoy our time together while discovering new places.

thebeautyofdetails

Your wedding day is special. You and yours are the cause of celebration. There are so many details that could be overlooked by some, but to those who notice, they are little glimpses of you. They are the small things that tell the story of you as a couple, and we make sure to document them.

heirloomalbums

We take great pride in offering you albums that are designed with you in mind. The album is where it all comes together. It is the place where you can re-live your wedding day, over and over again. Thanks to the process we have been fine-tuning from the beginning, your album will just show up, ready for you to enjoy, after a few approvals from you of course.

We deliver heirloom albums. That means it is made of quality materials, and is built to last. Just be sure to take care of it. Don't worry, we'll provide you with the details on how to do that.

Your album is hand-made, hand-mounted, hand-cut, hand-assembled, hand-finished, hand-wrapped, and delivered to you with love. What more could you ask for?

thephotobooth

Where the fun happens. Adding a photobooth to your wedding offers your guests something to enhance their experience, and you get to bring home the memories. There is simply nothing like it. Props included.

engagementsessions

An engagement session is an opportunity for you to be photographed prior to your wedding, get to know us and see images of yourselves before the wedding day. We want you to feel comfortable spending time with us, so on your big day you can be happy about our presence.

To help make these images special, together we'll pick a location that has significance to you both and will look beautiful in your photographs. You and your chosson are the subject matter, so you want to wear something that reflects who you are and what you love. When you are most comfortable is when you will feel and look your most natural and happy self. Now is the time to start getting glamorous. You should get a little more dolled up than you usually would. Do your hair or get it done professionally, a little more dramatically than usual. A little extra makeup, especially on the eyes can add an extra pop for the camera.

We tell your story through film. We find emotion and relationships, moments, and memories, and we make them into something that you will enjoy watching as the years pass. Our wedding videos are moving pictures, entrancing, and a passage through time.

Our videos are created with DSLR cameras. We use selctive focus, gliding movements, and sliding scenes to tell your story in a contemporary and attention grabbing way.
